

Summer Work for Pre-K 4

Hello! I'm so excited to have your child in my class this year. Below is the book I want you to read with your child before the start of school in August. What follows is a list of books that also deal with the first days of school and all your child's big feelings about this new adventure. In addition to this one book, I strongly encourage you to read to your child every day this summer. Reading stimulates a child's brain to grow and be more active. Reading widens a child's vocabulary and comprehension ability. Through reading, children develop their empathy, build confidence, and expand their imagination!

The Kissing Hand by Audrey Penn - Please read this book before our first day of school! (If you cannot find a copy of the book, feel free to watch the read aloud on YouTube!)
